
Two articles for magazine or web site

Posted by jurgenappelo - 2008/04/25 03:23

Hi,

I have two articles available that I am offering for your consideration. (I have also sent the full PDF versions to editor@agilejournal.com.)

You might be interested to know that my work has been praised by many for its quality of writing and its original ideas. Some of it is being published in Dr. Dobb's, Methods & Tools and Software Quality Professional Journal. I have also started a regular column for The Software Practitioner, the newsletter by Robert L. Glass. Some of my articles have recently been reviewed, and rated positively, by experts like Alistair Cockburn, Mary Poppendieck and Brad Appleton.

So, everything considered, I think I might qualify for your quality magazine and web site. :)

Regards,
Jurgen Appelo

The attachment I included in my post was discarded by the system because of its size.

So I made it available as a download:

Oh, and why don't you check out my blog now you're at it: <http://www.noop.nl>
The number of readers is growing rapidly.

Cheers,
Jurgen
