
SOA India 2008

Posted by Ashwini - 2008/09/07 23:53

Following the footprints of SOA India 2007 success, SDA Asia Magazine and sda-india.com proudly presents to you SOA India 2008. Claimed to be one of the best business and technical conference on Service-Oriented Architecture (SOA), SOA India 2008 offers intense, power packed sessions on aligning IT with business. It also guarantees to provide you with the tools and information you need to implement a company wide SOA solution.

SOA India 2008 features industry's foremost experts, authors, analysts and practitioners in Service-Oriented Architecture (SOA), Business Process Management (BPM), Business Architecture, Business Decision Management, and Organizational Performance and much more. Some of the topics that will be part of the larger discussion include: SOA in Collaboration (SOA and Web 2.0), SOA Best Practices and Real-life Case Studies, BPEL, Agile Best Practices, Enterprise 2.0, BI, and BPM-enabled SOA.

This three day long event, scheduled to roll out on the 17th November 2008, would also feature Keynotes by top of the line speakers from the industry. These eminent decision-makers of the software and/or web industry will speak on major trends and present their vision on the future of Service Oriented Architecture. SOA India 2008 also features full-day Power Workshops giving attendees the opportunity to enhance their know-how on various topics.

This event is also accompanied by an exhibition of innovative products and solutions, providing the audience with a platform to gather information, to learn more about the businesses, and to establish relationships with the people behind them.

For further information on the event please <mailto:info@soaindia.com> or visit www.soaindia.com

=====